"We Dare Not Be Complacent"

Daniel R. Hopkins, Conference Moderator

Recent years have seen remarkable progress in the strengthening of our fellowship and the growth of our churches. New church buildings have been completed throughout the Conference. Expensive and beautiful additions have been added to existing church facilities. Membership has grown. Two new churches in high potential areas have been established, and one more is now being organized. Benevolence giving has increased. Our youth program is thriving. We have pledged or paid our part in the Church Building Loan Fund. And most important of all, we have witnessed increased participation in Conference affairs by our Laymen and Laywomen through the Laymen's Workshop, the Women's Retreat and attendance at Conference and Association meetings. The ties which bind us have been strengthened and cemented. All this has been accomplished with some sacrifice and by the dedication and devotion of many.

For all these blessings we can and must be grateful. We might even want to feel complacent. But we dare not. So much needs to be done.

In our preoccupation with our own affairs, we have often ignored or forgotten so much of Our Christian World Mission. We have scarcely scratched the surface.

Now we are in position to march forward with increased vigor and with increased dedication toward the accomplishment of these many tasks. Now we can give our attention to the improvement of our youth camp facilities. We can establish new churches in areas not being served. We can further strengthen our fellowship through the formation and improvement of Laymen's fellowship in our Associations and churches and through the reorganization of our Stewardship, Evangelism and Christian Education Committees to promote increased participation by all members of our fellowship in these important areas. And we can give our increased attention to the needs of our fellowmen throughout the world.

In short, having strengthened and nurtured ourselves, let us now march forward together to spread Christ's teachings and to do His work whenever and wherever need exists.

We can not and we dare not do less!

Seaman Find Facts

An unusual event took place in Seaman Community Church in April. Bill Rinner, Chairman of the Fact-Finding Committee of the church (formed to find facts concerning need for building expansion, and procedure, if such need is found) and his brother, Dean, conceived the idea of presenting our expansion needs to the school of Architecture at Kansas State College.

With the cooperation of Mr. Don Depew, co-chairman of the Education Committee of the Kansas Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and Professor Cranston Heintzelman, the class in Architecture accepted this as a term project.

Professor Heintzelman and his students visited our church, talked with Mr. Dull, our minister, concerning our order of worship, consulted with Mr. Keeney, our Congregational Christian minister in Manhattan, to learn Congregational Christian ways and history, and then set to work.

On April 9 the finished drawings were exhibited by the students and sponsors. Two students, Roger A. Maxwell and Robert H. Goodin tied for first place and two for Honorable Mention. Bill and Dean donated prizes of $25.00 each for first place, Certificates for Honorable Mention and scale rules for all. Bill's Church School Class prepared and served an excellent meal to the sponsors, Professor Heintzelman, his students and to Superintendent and Mrs. Rymph, Assistant Superintendent and Mrs. Orville Hepler, the Board of Trustees, the Fact Finding Committee, and of course, Reverend and Mrs. Dull.

Ruth Rymph and I sat across the table from Roger Maxwell, one of the young men who tied for first place. We learned that his home is Superior, Nebraska and of course we told him we have a church at Olive Hill (post office address, Superior). He said, yes, he had been in the church many times. Did he know the Clyde Headrick's? (Good and faithful members of our Olive Hill church). Yes, indeed he did - Mrs. Headrick is his aunt. Ruth and I smiled happily.

Fact Finding Committee

A Friend Indeed

The New Westside Church Center in Wichita is nearing completion. Services were held in the new building on Palm Sunday when fourteen charter members were received. Forty-seven attended the Easter Sunday Worship Service.

Available Conference funds lacked $2000.00 of meeting the total building cost of $17,500.00. Our good friend and churchman, Levi Zimmerman of Whitewater came through with a check for that amount—$1465.00 as a gift to Kansas Church Extension and $535.00 as a loan to later be paid to the National Church Building Loan Fund. We are most grateful for this generous and timely gift.

Irene and Harold Sturman

Called to Centralia

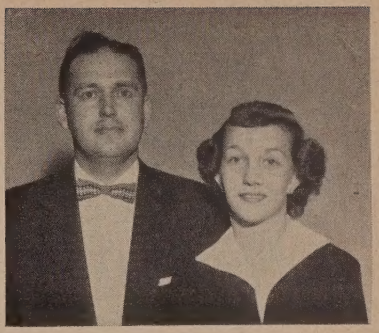
The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Sturman will begin leadership at Centralia June 1st, coming from Rio Hondo, Texas where they have served a Community Church for five years. Mr. Sturman is Congregational and a member of Texas Association of the Central South Conference. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has studied at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Sturman is a graduate nurse with one year post graduate work at the University of Michigan. The Sturman's have one daughter, Patricia Ann, who is finishing her Junior year in High School.

Centralia is happy to fill their pulpit made vacant the last of February when the Rev. Fred Smith retired. We welcome the Sturman's to our Kansas Fellowship.

Kelly's to Tonganoxie

The Rev. and Mrs. Rex Kelly who have served our church at Plevna, for almost two years have been called to Tonganoxie. Mr. Kelly is graduating from Sterling College this month and will enroll in Seminary in Kansas City next fall. Mrs. Kelly has been teaching Commerce at Plevna High School and will teach at Basehor, near Tonganoxie during next school year.



Rex and Betty Kelly

The Kelly's plan to move to Tonganoxie early this summer. Their son, Michael will be one year of age in July.

The Rev. W. P. Ames is serving as interim pastor at Tonganoxie.

Why Use Pilgrim Series?

After a long and satisfying personal experience in the use, observation, and supervision of Pilgrim Series programs in several churches, I am happy to have been asked to write on the subject of this article.

Pilgrim Series has been described as "a complete curriculum of Christian education for church and home, planned so that persons of all ages may come into right relationship with God and continue to grow in that relationship."

Four Important Emphases

Pilgrim Series has these emphases in areas of study and interest: 1: The Church - its heritage and work. 2: Commitment to Christ (central to the curriculum). 3: Understanding the Bible and its meanings. 4: Christian Living.

Eight Distinctive Features

1: Educationally Sound. Planned and developed by persons experienced in fields of religion, teaching and child psychology.

2. Group Graded: Flexible and adaptable to many types of groupings.

3: Bible And Life Centered: Meanings of Bible passages are brought out and these related and centered in the experiences, problems and needs of each age group in the church.

4: Church And Home Cooperation: Pilgrim Series recognizes the importance of the home influence on the family's religious nurture. Church School materials offer home-related creative activity suggestions. Family Resource books are offered quarterly. The Program Manual provides suggestions for parent-teacher meetings and for parent-children programs. It offers out-lines for Parents' Classes where they may discuss and strengthen their religious faith and beliefs and consider ways of answering children's questions concerning such convictions.

5: All Church Fellowship And Activities. A participating and concerned church fellowship of Christians provides resources for learning. The Program Manual offers guidance for carrying out all-church projects. These are a means of drawing together, in a mutually shared interest, church school classes, families and organizations. The Manual offers suggestions for observing events of the church year, for worship services and for taking part in mission and service projects of the world-wide church.

6: Leadership Training: Pilgrim Series has a "builtin" teacher training program within its teacher's guide. The Program Manual has detailed and helpful plans for teacher training programs and workers conferences. It suggests visual materials, supplementary teaching aids and helps and arrangements and uses of equipment.

7: Unified By Theme: Pilgrim Series is based on a carefully planned 3-year cycle with each quarters work having a central theme and each departments work in the church school having a certain relationship to the work of other departments.

8: Denominational Emphases through study and participation, relationship is made to stewardship, missions, social action and ecumenicity.

"Is Church School the Most Wasted Hour of the Week?" was recently the subject of a discussion sponsored by the Christian Education Committee of Manhattan Church. The 20 teachers and youth leaders present felt that such is not true for that church. This is due, in part, to the excellent curriculum materials which our denomination furnishes to its leaders. There is no place

Early in April Whitewater Sr. P. F. entertained Wichita Fairmount - 38 in all. Roger Poppe reported on a recent meeting of U.C.Y.M. A fine worship service and lively recreation are reported.

Marilyn Bell, one of our favorite Pilgrims from McPherson and Kansas University recently received the Inter-Residence Association Certificate of Merit for the highest scholastic record in the Women's residence halls at K.U.

Thank You

Dear P.F.'ers:

May I express my late, but sincere thanks to you for your contribution which helped to make the trip to Latin and South America possible.

It was one of the most meaningful experiences of my life - and as a result of it I hope you too will become better acquainted with the youth of those countries.

Thank you again for your contribution.

Sincerely,
Jean McCarter

"HEARTWARMERS"

There are usually several files on my desk; a file for Retreat, one for the new Packet, one for current events, but the one that's been the fullest this past month is the one marked, "Frantic." So many things had to be done first and immediately. For that reason, and others, it's been wonderful to get away from these pushing things and so very heartwarming to

. . . visit our Welborn Fellowship. The Committee for this meeting invited the members of the Zion E & R Women's Guild and the minister of that crurch, the Rev. H. W. Rath. There were 40 E & R folks present. All of us learned again how right the Psalmist was when he wrote, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." I recommend this procedure to other CC Fellowships that are near E & R churches;

. . . to visit again with Topeka Central Fellowship, and help them dedicate their Woman's Gift. Bertha Kiene presided and I heard good talk about the delegation from Central planning to attend Retreat;

. . . to participate in the city-wide Lenten Prayer Vigil, sponsored by the Topeka Council of Churches, and to read lovely and humble prayers written by many CC folks from our four local churches who also were participating;

. . . to attend State Conference. What wonderful hosts the Wichita Fairmount folks are. A true artist performs with joy and ease; never showing the hours of toil that have gone into perfecting his technique; he plays the most difficult composition with seeming effortlessness. Wichita Fairmount, we salute you as true artists.

There were many highlights in this Conference, but I can't name them all. The election of a fine young Christian layman as our State President was certainly a highlight - Mr. Daniel R. Hopkins, a lawyer who lives in Garden City. And, for our own Edith Erickson, Women's Fellowship Eastern President, Chairman of Retreat, wife of the Topeka Seabrook minister, to be elected as Vice President of our Conference was another highlight.

Lillian Gregory's sermon, "A Christian Looks at the World" was soul-searching and thrillingly alive; it was quoted time and again in general conversation and in meetings, by ministers, laymen and women. This was tape recorded and may be available for programs in your churches - watch for announcement.

Paul Davis, handsome young Garden City minister, made Communion sacred and holy for us. His sermon was humiliating - it humbled us and made us ashamed of ourselves; but it also inspired us to take home the knowledge that God loves us, He forgives us, and He is alive in us today and forever, if we will admit Him.

The Rhythmic Interpretations presented by Rosedale members were beautiful. Paul Anderson's spoken portrayal of "The Creation" was wonderful and it is heartwarming to see a layman use such a talent for God.

How can I not mention Dale Turner, our Lawrence minister who is so quick of hand and pun, and who moderated the Conference with wisdom and Christian love; the Christian Social Action panel Sunday afternoon, chaired by Guy Gebhardt, a man who can present a controversial subject and keep it from becoming controversial; the all too short testimonials of "This Worked for Us"; and to jump clear back to the beginning, the Conference Sermon, "For the Life of Me" by Reverend George Ogden Kirk, and the Saturday morning meditation, "It's Great to Get Up in the Morning" denied by Reverend Merton Rymph.

You can see how impossible it is to highlight such a Conference. My only regret was for the many CC's who did not attend. Attendance this year was excellent, but there are close to 20,000 CC's in Kansas. I hope each year's attendance will increase, so that eventually we will have to use the Town Hall in order to be accomodated. These things are too good to miss. They warm our hearts as the hearts of other pilgrims were warmed on The Emmaus Road. There were moments when we, too, walked with the Living Christ.

—Vera Lancaster

REPORT OF REPORTS

Almost all of our yearly reports have been received and checked over. Some are the same as last year, but many groups have changed their way of doing things and are growing toward the better program as provided in our new set-up. This quotation from one report is most hopeful. "We have an active and dedicated group of women working for Christian growth in our church and community. We have not met all the requirements set up in this report, but I think we are working in that direction." Other groups can say the same thing while some are already functioning in the six areas of work. Possibly "everything" done is seldom reported. The whole W. F. Board, Key woman and committee chairman are needed to help make out these yearly reports.

We have accomplished much. We are reading more, studying more, sharing more and broadening our missionary interests. This will surely lead to more Social Action and Prayer and Bible Study groups for next year.

Any New Ideas

I hope I can make closer contacts with groups next year. It is so pleasant and profitable to do so for we learn from each other and every new idea I hear of, I try to pass on to others. Suggestions are welcome. Should we have more correspondence? Would that be useful? What do you suggest?

Thank you very much for your kind cooperation and for all the work you have done to swell the sum total in Southern Association.

Western Reports

I have just re-read the annual reports and compared them with the reports sent in last year.

These are some of the things that I should like to see improvements in next year:

More Fellowships owning and reading the Mission Study Books.

More programs on the World Theme and Homeland Theme.

More Prayer Groups formed.

More churches following the example of four churches in Western Association of every family receiving or being a subscriber to Congregational Kansas.

More families reading Advance so as to get a larger picture of Our Christian World Mission.

Every church represented at Association Meeting, State Conference and Women's Retreat.

My suggestion to the new president is to visit the Fellowships whose reports show a weakness in the above mentioned things.

It has been a pleasure to have served four years as your State Corresponding Secretary; one year as acting president; and two years as president of the Women's Fellowship of Western Association. I shall always cherish the memories of the people I met at the various meetings I attended.

Miss Bertha Tindal, President
Western Association

for complacency and the education and religious training of teachers must constantly move forward, seeking improvements. Our national leadership realizes this and strives for such ideals.

Those persons among you who read the article by the title quoted above, and which appeared in February 11, "Life", will find an interesting and appropriate reply to it in Dr. Harry Thomas Stock's, "We Dissent", March 8, issue of "Advance".

A Question

If your church fellowship is not now receiving the benefits of Pilgrim Series, why not ask your Christian Education committee to give these superior materials a chance to prove themselevs over a fair trial period? You will find them dependable, expertly planned helps for your church as it faces its problems and seeks to attain high goals in the Christian education of all ages. You may secure a free catalog by writing to Pilgrim Press.

They will send details on securing a sample set of next quarter's Pilgrim Series materials, should your committee be interested in that.
